ANNOUNCEMENTS

AT THE AUDITORIUM,

William Farnum in Elaborate Film Version of Wilson Barrett's Inspiring Drama, "The Sign of the Cross."

William Farnum, the prominent American star, and an exceptionally able supporting company, including hundreds of people, are presented in the Famous Players Film company's mammoth five reel production of Wil-son Barrett's sublime and famous drama, The Sign of the Cross, the Paramount feature at the Auditorium raramount feature at the Auditorium today and tomorrow.

This great film attraction is conceded to be the foremost dramatic spectacle ever produced in America. The note of solemn reality that pervades the story, the gentle maiden martyr's last moments on earth, and the atmosphere of unassailable purity, simplicity and faith which dominate the crucial scenes of the drama, make the subject one of the tenderest portravals of a noble story ever presented to the motion picture public.

The film makes a deep and abiding impression. In the pictures of the inspired martyrs going gladly to their door; of the shrinking, terrified boy, strengthened by the grace of God to win his immortal crown; of the final trial and temptation of the Christian girl, and lastly in the triumphant calm of the last moments of the woman and the man, strong in faith and love, everything is so beautifully felt, so sim-ply conceived, so classically treated, that the appeal of the subject is over-

The seventh episode, and one of the best of the entire series of the Broken Coin, will also be shown today and tomorrow, as well as the fourth number of the Paramount Travel series.

COLONIAL THEATRE.

"Love, Snow and Ice," Three Reel Broadway Star Feature-Vitagraph.

Distinctly a story with one purpose that to entertain, this fine drama of Lake George in the winter comes as a refreshing moment in a season of all big feature pictures. Featured in it is Wallie Van, the inimitable Cutey of the big Vitagraph cast, and appearing with him is Nitra Frazer, a wholesome sort of girl, with a general desire to effervesce. She is given abundant opportunity to do so in this stirring romance of the winter. Ice-boating, tobogganing, skating and in fact all of the healthy sports peculiar to ice and snow are introduced, amid the environment of a frolicking mid-winter carnival crowd.

Another splendid film is the one entitled Her Other Self, a Lubin two-reel production, in which is starred Velma Whitman and L. C. Shumway, two of the strongest actors in the big Lubin cast. It is a story with a pro-found plot, and one that cannot fail to arouse the utmost spirit of enthu-sinsm in the minds of all who see it. The Unsparing Sword is the title of chapter 10 of the Road O'Strife series, and in which Crane Wilbur is starred. This completes this superb program

MAN YARDS OF SILK REQUIRED. Maintenance of "The Fashion Shop" Great Expense-Hugo Jansen Gained

Idea While Visiting Paris Designe

-At the Davis Today.

Unique and novel, "The Fashion Shop", the headliner at the Davis Theater this week, has attracted a remarkable amount of interest among remarkable amount of interest among the Davis theater goers. The act is new and it unlike anything that has been seen in this city. The ideas carried out by the promoter, Hugo Jansen, are entertaining and educational. In addition to displaying the styles and modes Mr. Jansen has combined wit and humor along with matchy music, so that there is not one dull moment during the entire act.

LaTelle, a Broadway star, who made a tremendous hit for three seasons with the Naughty Marietta Company. She is tall and angular and plays lead comedy woman with great ability. Earl Corr, a clever young man of metropolitan experience, works with her, taking the part of a rube comedian.

Little Miss: Helen Julyette, a sweet young miss of eighteen years is the soubrette. She dances and sings and poses for costumes while all the time entertaining with her sprightly manner and charming ways. Miss Julyette has had considerable experience on the stage although not yet out of her teens. She was a member of Purple Lady Company and has elicited words of praise from New York dramatic critics.

Four beautiful models, both in face and figure, perform as models. Mr. Jansen declared he had considerable Jansen declared he had considerable difficulty in choosing his cast, on account of the unusual type of work. All possess good singing voices which are used to good advantage in the act.

There will be a complete change of photoplays at the Davis today.

VAUDEVILLE FOR THE FAIR.

Many Novel Stage Attractions Are Billed For Next Month.

There is an old saying that you can't get enough of a good thing and looking at the array of spectacular acts which will perform on the open stage across the track, directly opposite the grand stand at the County Fair, one is led to believe that he would indeed be a glutton for amusement who is not surfeited by the programme.

LIGHTNING.

How to be Reasonably Safe From It.

In the August Woman's Home Com-panion, Rollin Lynde Hartt writes an intensely interesting page entitled "Let's Talk About the Weather." He tells what the signs of rain are, and he also describes some of the phe-nomena of thunder and lightning. He says that lightning hits cows oftener than people, barns oftener than houses, country dwellings oftener than city dwellings, trees at the edge of a wood dwellings, trees at the edge of a wood oftener than those in the thick of it, caks oftener than maples and human beings outdoors oftener than human beings outdoors oftener than human beings indoors. He then gives the following advice as to what to do in case of lightning: "Run for a house—not a barn. " Once inside a house, stay there. By actual count it is fourteen times as safe as outdoors. Outdoors, it is another tale, for there you may be crazy enough to seek shelter under trees. Don't misunderstand me when I tell which trees are most dangerous—all are dangerous, none are safe—and my only object is to drop a hint to people who are about to pitch a tent in the woods and who. to pitch a tent in the woods and who consequently, risk being caught out at night and unable to run for their lives. With the proportion of hits indicated, the list follows: Oaks, 54: poplars, 24: elms, 14: walnuts, 11: firs, 10: willows, 7: pines, 6: ashes, 6: pears, 4: cherries, 4: apples, 2: birches, 1."

They brought it while I slept—that ugly screen—
For death and I are soon to meet, and They guard against our meeting be-ing seen.

There was no need to hide me from their sight—
There il he no parting pang as life is spent!
I hear sweet music softly through the night;
It calls to me and I am quite content.

How well I know the music that they That dear old waitz we always called "our" dance—
So rich in depth and sweetness, yet so 'Tis good to hear it once again in France!

I'm not alone within this narrow cell,
I seem to feel a hovering presence near;
think she knelt beside me where I fell And made a tryst that she would meet me here. How faint the music sounds and yet how sweet!

'Tis well that they have banished all the light.
We need it not to guide our gliding feet—
It is "our" dance; dear heart, the last—tonight!

-tonight! -O. C. A. Child, in New York Times.
